A smartly presented, end-terraced period house offering well-proportioned accommodation and retaining some lovely period features such as ceiling roses and coving.

Situated in a sought-after and well-established location on the town centre side of Wolborough Hill, the property offers convenient access to the town centre with our offices around 500m walk and the town's mainline railway station around 800m walk.

Newton Abbot offers a vibrant town centre with excellent range of shops, businesses, restaurants, schools and much more.

The Accommodation:

Stepping inside, the accommodation enjoys plenty of natural light, has high-ceilinged rooms typical of the period and is decorated with attractive neutral tones. The ground floor features a spacious entrance hallway with handsome staircase and $\frac{3}{4}$ landing rising to the first floor and having storage cupboards below. A bay-windowed lounge overlooks the front and has a period style decorative fireplace, whilst a separate second reception room overlooks the rear. With 2 windows and a back door the kitchen/breakfast room has a selection of modern cabinets, integrated oven and hob and plenty of space for a good size table and chairs.

At first floor level are 4 bedrooms, the principal with bay window and a first-class modern bathroom with basin and WC. The property also benefits from a recently installed Honeywell 'Evohome' smart thermostat system.

Accessed externally is a most useful plumbed utility room with further access through this room to an under-croft basement, providing a practical storage space.

Outside:

Pretty front garden with paved area and lawn enclosed by stone walls and fencing. Rear paved area.

Parking:

Single off road space at the rear. The location also has a residents parking permit scheme for on-street parking through the local authority.

Directions:

From our office proceed up Devon Square to you reach Torquay Road. Go straight over into Albion Hill and the property will be found at the top of the road and is on the corner of Albion Hill and Southernhay
