Asking Price £450,000

Nestled in a peaceful and picturesque corner of the Yorkshire Pennines, this beautifully converted stone barn offers a rare combination of character, space, and genuine rural privacy. Behind its characterful stone façade lies a home rich in original detail, with exposed ceiling beams running throughout the interior and echoed outside in the beamed window heads above the modern double-glazed windows - nowhere more strikingly than in the living room, where the roofline soars to an exceptional height and draws the eye up to a stunning run of original feature beams.

The accommodation flows naturally between charming, beamed interiors and bright, contemporary living space, centred around a spacious open-plan kitchen/diner that forms the true hub of the home, with bi-fold doors opening onto a sheltered courtyard garden. Two further outbuildings - a versatile home office and a fully equipped gym - extend the living space beyond the main house, ideal for remote working or a home fitness setup. Ample off-road parking for up to five vehicles makes this an ideal property for those with multiple cars or visiting family.

Across the quiet lane, and sold with the property, lies approximately two acres of gently sloping land, including a paddock, mature orchard, veg beds, field shelter and polytunnel - a genuine smallholding opportunity with its own natural water spring. Back at the house, a private kitchen garden with greenhouse and raised beds sits just off the courtyard, perfect for home-grown produce close to hand. Sweeping valley views stretch out beyond, with open countryside on every side and the Pennine Way close at hand.

This is a rare chance to acquire a characterful, individual home in one of Oakworth's most tranquil settings - peaceful, private, and surrounded by nature, yet still within easy reach of local amenities.
