

Rex Gooding

White House, Church Street, Bunny, NG11 6QW

Guide Price: £975,000

White House, Church Street, Bunny, NG11 6QW

Originally constructed in 1686, The White House stands as the oldest property in the picturesque village of Bunny, occupying a tranquil position directly opposite the historic church. This Grade II listed residence has been meticulously refurbished and renovated by the current owners, who have seamlessly integrated a stunning barn conversion completed in 2007. Together, these buildings create a remarkable home set within beautifully established walled gardens that offer exceptional privacy and seclusion. The marriage of historical significance with contemporary comfort makes this an extraordinarily rare find in today's property market.

The current owners have undertaken an extensive programme of modernisation throughout both the main house and barn, achieving an impressive balance between preserving period charm and introducing twenty-first century luxury. Particular emphasis has been placed on energy efficiency, with comprehensive insulation, quality double glazing, new external doors and underfloor heating installed throughout sections of the property. The result is a home that not only captivates with its original features, heavily beamed ceilings and timeless character, but also provides the comfort and running costs associated with modern construction. This thoughtful approach ensures future owners can enjoy the romance of a period property without compromise.

The accommodation offers remarkable flexibility across its generous layout, featuring three reception rooms on the ground floor and an extraordinary library space on the first floor of the barn that provides a

