

Rex Gooding

15 High View Avenue, Keyworth, NG12 5EL

Guide Price:

15 High View Avenue, Keyworth, NG12 5EL

The latest masterpiece from luxury property developers Soar Valley Homes Ltd, this extraordinary detached residence represents a rare convergence of architectural distinction, contemporary elegance, and effortless sophistication — a home that must be experienced in person to be truly appreciated.

Discreetly positioned within a secluded, established plot and approached through secure 1.8-metre high electric gates at both entrances, this magnificent four-bedroom home commands approximately 5,500 square feet of meticulously appointed living space. Set upon a private, south-facing half-acre plot, the property is framed by an expansive in-and-out block-paved driveway offering generous parking for five or six vehicles, complemented by an integral double garage fitted with remote-controlled sectional doors. Thoughtfully engineered for modern, responsible living, this certified eco home achieves the coveted Energy Performance Certificate A rating — the highest possible standard — through the seamless integration of solar power and an air source heat pump system, delivering both outstanding energy efficiency and a genuinely low-carbon footprint without the slightest compromise to comfort or convenience. Adding further peace of mind, the property is protected by a ten-year Advantage Build warranty, providing the new owner with lasting confidence and assurance from the moment they arrive.

From the moment you step inside, the tone is set by a grand entrance hallway of remarkable presence. At its heart rises a sweeping central staircase — a sculptural triumph of marble, glass, and stainless steel, crowned by a hand-finished French-polished handrail that echoes the rich, warm tones of the internal oak doors throughout. This arresting focal point draws the eye upward to the galleried first-floor landing

