LOCATION:

Kelso Cottage is situated in the much sought after village of Lochcarron with views to the loch and across to the hills of Attadale. Lochcarron is set between the magnificent Torridon and Kintail mountain ranges and is thought to be the longest village in Scotland, stretching for approximately 2 miles along the Lochside. An ideal base for hill walking and mountain climbing along with a varied selection of other outdoor pursuits including sailing, fishing, kayaking, cycling, and golf in Lochcarron's own 9-hole course. Local amenities include village shops, Post Office, hotels, bistro, cafes, craft centre, petrol station, garages, medical centre, and primary school. Secondary schooling is available in Plockton to which there is a daily bus. Kyle of Lochalsh lies just 25 miles away with its greater range of shops and supermarket and access to the Isle of Skye bridge. The bustling city of Inverness is only 62 miles and gives access to the airport and rail links to the south and north.

EXTERNAL:

GARDEN:

Kelso Cottage benefits from enclosed gardens to the front and rear of the property. A small seating area at the front of the property affords beautiful views over Loch Carron. The rear garden can be accessed via the rear door located in the utility room or via the shared driveway at the side of the property. Privacy fencing has been installed along the side of the garden, with a timber gate providing access. A gravel seating area is located at the rear of the property, with a timber garden shed at the bottom of the garden providing convenient storage for garden tools. A guiding rope has been installed alongside a grass path. The sloping garden is mainly laid to lawn with mature trees and established planting along both side boundaries. At the top of the garden, a polytunnel has been installed, with a small pond adjacent to it. This upper section also affords attractive views over Loch Carron. A dry-stone wall marks the rear boundary of the garden.
